

RN Risk Manager

Job ID: 2010-1619Location: US-NY-New YorkPosted Date: 1/12/2010Category: Risk ManagementEmp Status: Regular Full-TimeDepartment: 1953 - Risk ManagementHours per Week: 35Shift: DaysTime Off Weeks: 3

More information about this job:

Overview:

In this highly visible role, you will be responsible for administering the Risk Management prevention plan on a day-to-day basis. This includes managing and analyzing Risk Management data, participating in Risk Management education programs, conducting unit rounds and reviewing of inpatient and discharged patient records. You will also be responsible for preparation of case summaries and attendance in various committees with the objective of enhancing and promoting patient safety and quality care and minimizing loss to protect the assets of the organization.

Qualifications:

The successful candidate must have a demonstrated commitment to professional growth and development in Risk Management practice. Excellent writing skills as well as strong verbal and presentation skills are essential. The ability to effectively manage, coach and mobilize others will be vital to your role. RN background with Bachelor's degree and minimum 5 years hospital Risk Management experience required. National Certification (CPHRM) highly desirable.

Apply for this job:

- Apply for this job online

Go back to the welcome page

Powered by the
CITIS TALENT PLATFORM
Applicant Tracking Software